Veteran-Sponsored 'Strip Polka' Dance Tonight Aids Drive

"Now is the time for all good students to come to the aid of their campus clothing drive," reminds Dewey Smith, chairman of the Vet-sponsored "Strip Polka" dance to be held tonight from 8 to 12 in the Eagles' hall, 148 N. Third street.

"Although the campus drive has officially ended, we are offering this last opportunity for students who have not already brought in their contributions," Dewey explains.

"So 'strip' your closets of unwanted, out-of-style clothes and bring them along to the Veterans' 'Strip Polka' dance tonight."

Henry Ponciano and his orchestra will play for the dance. Entertainment is to include trumpet solos by Harry Lawless and songs by Milo Badger, as well as other specialty numbers arranged by Jim Howie, entertainment committee chairman.

Bids are one sale at $1 in the Business office, and also in the Library arch at noon. They will also be sold at the door tonight.

SJS Journalists Will Attend Press Meeting In S.F.

"Tombstone," the famous ebony cat of the San Francisco Press club and traditional symbol of silence at "off-the-record" meetings, will not exercise his powers at Sunday noon gatherings which will be attended by Spartan Daily and La Torre representatives in connection with the United Nations Security Conference.

These meetings, which will enable "junior reporters" to meet top diplomats and newspaper men, will be "on-the-record," so that reports on the talks may be made.

University, college, junior college and senior high school newspaper representatives are included in the invitation to take part in the Sunday meetings which will be held from 12 until 3 p. m. Dinners will be followed with speeches by diplomats and correspondents.

Each meeting will conclude with press interviews. One photographer, one reporter, and one journalism faculty member from each school may attend each meeting.

The first gathering, which will be held this weekend, will cover the subject of "World Freedom of News." Among the SJS students who will attend the series of meetings are Jack Clark, Bob Barton, Bill Courtney, and Dolores Dolph, La Torre photographers; Peggy Scruggs, Catherine Eaby, Gloria Teresi, Rowland Mitchell, and Phil Robertson, journalism students.

SENIORS, JUNIORS VIE FOR MIXER HONORS TUESDAY; EVENING PARTY IN UNION

Next Tuesday juniors and seniors will meet in the last upperclass competition of the year, the spring quarter mixer. Main event of the day will be an evening party from 7 to 11 o'clock in the Student Union, featuring games and competition, dancing, entertainment, and refreshments. "The juniors," says Class President Madge Jennings, "want a little competition from the seniors this time. We're out to take this mixer series as we have taken every other since we have been at State, but if it's too easy, it's no fun."

Rae Klason, however, who is chairman of the mixer for the seniors, retaliates with the assertion that, "If the juniors want competition, they'll get it. Their 'tradition' of taking all the mixer series ought to be broken, and the seniors are the class to do the job."

Junior President Jennings has appointed Ruth Hansen in charge of ticket sales, and made Elaine Chadbourne responsible for entertainment. Bea Ballard and Howard Riddle of the seniors will direct the games, and Gloria Suess will head the refreshment committee.

Directed by Shirley Eyerett, a volunteer group of juniors will work today at noon on special identification paper hats to be worn by all third-year men and women Tuesday.

BENTEL AUTHOR OF THREE LEAD STORIES

Three main feature stories by Dwight Bentel, former faculty member, are in the April 14 issue of Editor and Publisher magazine, weekly organ of the newspaper and advertising profession.

Bentel, who returns to the faculty this summer as head of the Journalism department, has been in New York the past three years, the last one as a member of the editorial staff of Editor and Publisher.

Stories by Bentel in the April 14 issue cover the wire handling of the death of President Roosevelt, the probable situation of European correspondents after the war, and a dramatic tryout of two Negro baseball players with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Titles are: "Flash—President Is Dead"—Sends Services Into Action"; "News Agency Chiefs Portray Task Beyond the Foxholes—The Post-War European Correspondent"; and "Negro Player Tryout Stirrs Baseball Writers."

MRS. GRAY GOES TO U.S.C. THIS SUMMER

Reading classes for Summer Session will be taught by Mrs. Dora Reese of Minnesota, in the absence of Mrs. Lillian Gray, professor of education at San Jose State college.

Mrs. Reese is now on leave of absence from Duluth State Teachers college in Minnesota, and is doing graduate work for her doctor's degree at Stanford university.

Mrs. Gray will teach at the Summer Session of the University of Southern California.

SOPH RALLY SET FOR WEDNESDAY

A rally in the Quad at 12:30 Wednesday will preface the Sophomore Hop May 5 in the Scottish Rite Temple.

Dale Bower, who is in charge of the rally, assures students that there will be some outstanding talent at the rally.

Among those performing will be Nancy Lynn, Phil McDonald, Milo Badger, Jewie Haddock, and Esther Hessling.

The dance will have decorations in the hill-billy theme. Phil McDonald and Bill Shaw are in charge of decorating.

Bids selling for $1.50 will go on sale next week. June Robertson is in charge.

Nancy Lynn is planning entertainment for the evening, and a well know bay area band will play.

USO GIRLS

From all indications there will be a very heavy weekend in USO activities in the next two or three days. For this reason there will be two USO dances on Saturday night, April 28. There will be the usual USO dance at Newman hall with the usual sign-up at the YWCA. In addition there will be a USO dance at the CWC with a sign-up for 60 girls at the YWCA. Please sign up for this extra dance by noon Saturday.

Helen Dimmick, co-chairman
USO dance committee

La Torre Payments Due Today By 4 p. m.

Today is the last day for completing La Torre payments, reminds Business Manager Jeanne Petrinovich. There are approximately 100 people who must comply with the deadline.

The deadline was once extended but this is the last time such action will be taken, warns Miss Petrinovich.

All those who fail to complete payment will have to make personal arrangements with Miss Petrinovich in the near future or else forfeit their yearbooks.

Those still desiring a 1944 La Torre may obtain a copy from Miss Petrinovich in the Publications office.

KING, QUEEN APPLICATION DEADLINE TODAY; BOOTH PLANS DUE WEDNESDAY

Twenty-five Booths In Layout Plans;
Materials To Be Signed For May 4

Applications for the king and queen contest must be turned in today, announces Milo Badger, general chairman of Spardi Gras. Applications may be left in the Co-op box "S", or given to either Nancy Lynn, Claire Canevari, or Badger. Badger also announces that 1 p.m. is the deadline for organizations to submit a plan of their Spardi Gras booths in regard to idea, size, and general construction.

These specifications must either be given to Roy Mische, construction chairman, or put in the "S" box in the Spartan Shop. Badger declared that plans handed in late will be given last consideration for positions in the booth layout.

Twenty-five different booths have already been signed up. Novel ideas should be used in designing the construction and plan of booths, adds Chairman Mische.

Materials from the maintenance department for use on Spardi Gras day may be arranged for with Byron Bollinger on or after May 4.

Rules for the king and queen contest have been sent to organizations and printed in the Daily. Any organization not following instructions will forfeit its candidate's right to run.

A meeting of committee heads is scheduled for today at 12:30 in the Student Union. The chairman urges all committee heads to attend promptly.

John B. Hughes To Speak Thursday In Morris Dailey

Collegians interested in firsthand accounts of war news are invited to attend a lecture by John B. Hughes, commentator and war correspondent, next Thursday evening in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

The lecture is sponsored by the San Jose Junior Auxiliary of the Stanford Convalescent home, for the benefit of the home. Tickets are on sale at Sherman & Clay, and by Mrs. Sarah Dowdle, former faculty member. Price is $1.20, including tax.

After six months on the Far Eastern war fronts, Hughes recently returned to the United States to cover the Peace Conference in San Francisco. He was with the first wave of troops landing on Leyte island in the Philippines, where a Rican forces experienced more air raids in 10 days than Guadalcanal had in its entire campaign.

"News and Views by John B. Hughes" is the title of the speaker's radio program.

TYPHOID SHOTS

Those students who have signed up for typhoid shots will be treated from 12 to 12:30 in the Health office today.

Honor Groups Meet To Form New Council

Representatives of honorary societies met Wednesday at 12:30 with ASB President Howard Riddle and Vice President Marge Howell in the Student Body office to discuss plans for an honorary society council.

Sigma Delta Pi, Pi Epsilon Tau, Delta Pi Epsilon, Mu Phi Alpha, Iota Delta Phi, Beta Beta Beta, Mu Phi Epsilon, Kappa Delta Pi, and Delta Nu Theta were the honorary societies represented.

Meetings will henceforth be held every Wednesday noon in the Student Body office.

STAGE CREW, TECHNICIANS PREPARE PLAY

Members of the production staff and technical workers have begun work on Noel Coward's "Hay Fever," the comedy scheduled for presentation May 8, 9, and 10.

Most of the positions have been well filled, according to Mrs. Mary McCreath, Speech department secretary, who has been signing up the workers during the past few weeks.

STAGE CREW

The stage crew which will prepare the set is composed of the stagecraft class, who work on the production as a class project, and other interested students. Those who will work on the set are: Jo Hildebrand, Angelo Bova, Dale Bower, Darlene Galloway, Richard Greulich, Roxane Hildreth, Madeline Popovich, Vivien Dugan-zich, Phillip Robertson, Mary Alice Blake, and Elaine Kahn. The group will meet during class time on certain evenings and Saturdays. The first meeting is scheduled for this coming Saturday at 11 o'clock, according to stage manager Al Johnson.

ELECTRICIANS

Dale Bower and Dolores Dolph will work together as electricians, and Marjorie McNeil and Shirley Hart will take care of the properties.

A publicity staff of Betty Doyle, Phyllis McDonald, and Barbara Baumann, headed by Margaret Moore, has been developing a campaign to be put into effect during the period of advance ticket sales.

Makeup for the production will be done by members of the class in stage makeup instructed by Hugh Gillis, Speech department head. This is another class which receives practical experience through work on the production. Members of the class include Carol Eason, Frances Gleason,

Former Governor Of Malta Will Speak In Civic Auditorium

Lieutenant General Sir William Dobbie, former governor and commander-in-chief of Malta, will speak in the Civic auditorium on Friday, May 4, at 7:45 p. m.

General Dobbie is the first Allied general to tour this country, giving a first-hand account of his war experiences. "People who have heard him say that he is a very forceful speaker," says Dr. Karl Hazeltine, chairman in charge of publicity for the address.

Seats will be placed on the auditorium stage in anticipation of a large crowd, and a block of seats will be provided for San Jose State college students.

Before he speaks, General Dobbie will show a 20-minute movie of the actual bombing of Malta—"the most bombed spot on earth." Bombed 2300 times by the Nazis, Malta is credited with keeping this key mid-Mediterranean garrison out of Axis hands during the critical months of 1942.

SPARTANS in the SERVICE...

By ELEANOR FRATES

Captain Salver Gagliardi, former Spartan, has been killed in action in Germany. He attended State until the National Guard company of which he was a member was called into service.

Capt. Gagliardi received his officer's training at Fort Benning, Georgia, before going overseas.

S/Sgt. Joseph Wythe, SJS architectural major, now aerial gunner on a B-24 Liberator, recently flew his 25th combat mission.

Sergeant Wythe's 25th mission was to the railroad yard at Brescia, Italy. Although a very accurate and intense flak barrage was put up by the enemy, a successful bomb run was made.

"Approaching the target," said Sergeant Wythe, "I could see a dark flak cloud up ahead, and down below the yards were just filled with freight cars. We went into the flak area, and it wasn't as bad as I had imagined. Bombs were away, and a few seconds later I saw them hit right on our briefed target. Pieces of cars and track flew up to about 10,000 feet. Our bombardier sure did a swell job!"

He entered the Army in July, 1942.

A letter came to us yesterday from a former Spartan, Evan Jellick, now a lieutenant in the Marines. He writes: "Just received some back issues of the 'Daily' and was sure glad to have them to read. How's about telling all the old boys in Sigma Gamma Omega frat hello for me."

"I know there aren't any in school but I'll bet they get hold of the 'Daily' once in a while. Would sure like to hear from some of them."

Evan.

Marine First Lieutenant Claire Rauch, a former laboratory assistant here, recently was promoted to that rank while on duty at the Marine Corps Headquarters, Washington, D. C.

Lieutenant Rauch entered the Marine Corps Women's Reserve in February, 1943, and received her commission the following May. She was on recruiting duty until February, 1944, when she was assigned to the Naval Training School, Harvard university.

Want Your La Torre?

Every Tuesday and Thursday evening about 7 o'clock, La Torre staff begins to gather in the Publications office for a couple of hours of activity.

Things start buzzing as soon as Editor Anna Mae Diffin enters—pencils fly, razors rip, and a general bustling of very busy people is in effect until around 9:30 when all this activity comes to an end for the day.

Yes, getting out a yearbook takes a lot of effort, and many situations arise which give the editor plenty of headaches.

All this is for us, so that in some future date we can idly thumb through the pages of the 1945 yearbook and find all our old friends smiling back at us.

Don't you think we should co-operate with these hard-working staff members in every way possible? Plenty of money is involved in putting out a yearbook; it's an expensive job. And that money comes from the students themselves—from prospective readers. A deadline has been set and re-set for completing payments—it can no longer be delayed.

The time is now; the place is the Publications office. Complete payments for La Torre today.

O'Brien.

A Laugh A Day

Sometimes amusing things happen which brighten up the day, even in routine class work. Such an incident occurred in the Art department recently.

While Dr. Marques Reitzel was conducting the Art delegation from a neighboring college on tour through the various rooms in the Art Wing, they chanced to come into the crafts class conducted by Mrs. Ruthadell Horan. They had barely stepped inside when a student asked Mrs. Horan if she might go into another classroom to borrow some materials she needed. Under ordinary circumstances this is always permissible. Imagine the expression on the faces of the delegates when Mrs. Horan replied, "I wouldn't disturb them if I were you. They've been dying in there all morning."

Dr. Reitzel hastened to explain that the class referred to was doing Javanese batik dyeing, lest the delegates decide they had perchance entered Agnew State hospital instead of San Jose State college.

THROUGH OTHER EYES

By DAVID WEBSTER

Actually, somebody stopped us in the hallway the other day and claimed that he reads this column. Now all we have to do is find someone who laughs at it too, and we can die happy.

This little bit of rhyme which was snatched from the Globe printing office during an evening's proof reading may help to clear up the position of one who has the responsibility of selecting the material for a column like this.

"Perhaps you think our jokes are bad,

But you'd quickly change your views,

If you'd compare the jokes we print

With those we couldn't use."

Going back a couple of issues of the Ace Pursuiter, we found some swell stories we seem to have missed.

"Driving through a remote section of Vermont a travelling salesman stopped to get some gasoline. "Great job MacArthur is doing, isn't it?" he asked by way of making conversation. "Who's MacArthur?" asked the attendant.

"Why, he's the fellow giving the Japs such a licking," said the surprised motorist. "What for?" said the rustic. "Oh, never mind," said the salesman. "Just give me 20 gallons of gas, 4 new tires, and half a dozen cartons of cigarettes."

Before this column gets so long that it has to be cut to make it fit, we'd like to comment that about our only objection to his warm weather is that now we haven't any excuse for not doing our outside reading.

We Feel Bad about Violets

POETS always call the violet the shrinking violet. We feel bad about anything that shrinks—but chiefly shirts.

So we've spent our life making the shirt that doesn't shrink, the Arrow shirt. It's Sanforized-labeled, which means fabric shrinkage less than 1%, and its Mitoga figure fit is superb. Arrow's collar is the world's finest. Try an Arrow today!

The Low Down

By JIM BEACOCK

At last a real statistician has been uncovered. David Preston, in a letter to The LOW DOWN, informs me that Cal's Golden Bears didn't play in the Rose Bowl in 1939 as Miss Davis believed, nor did they play in the Rose Bowl in 1937 as I reported. The Bears played in the 1938 Rose Bowl, which I found out by checking the records as Mr. Preston advised.

One of the hardest things for a columnist to do is to admit he's made a mistake. Well, I made one and at the moment I can't think of a logical excuse, so I'll have to admit I'm wrong. Thanks again, Dave Preston, for putting me straight and thanks for your letter; it was very interesting.

It looks as if our athletic department is serious about fielding a football team next fall. What with spring practice starting Monday, April 30, and $700 being set aside by the Student Council for personal equipment for the team, it looks like we're going to be represented by our first team in three years.

One thing about football is you don't have to try to awaken student interest; most students can hardly wait from week to week to attend the games. Don't expect too much from this team. You'll see interesting and exciting football; but don't expect a team of pre-war caliber.

I attended the 12-10 track meet our baseball team had with Paly High last Monday afternoon. After seeing the boys kick the ball around and hand Paly a 5-0 lead, I was ready to call it a day and made a few remarks to some of the players to the effect that it took a real team to whip S. F. State on Saturday and then be behind a not too sharp high school team on the following Monday.

On hearing this remark, Milo Badger was willing to bet me any amount that State would eventually win. Being the conservative type, I restrained my eagerness and overlooked his challenge. Two minutes later Milo stepped up to the plate and smashed out a home run that started State on its victory parade.

Incidentally, Joe Pash, State's alert catcher, caught four Paly runners off base, which is quite a feat for a catcher.

Today's Ball Game With Moffett Field Concludes Season

The Spartan baseball team concludes its season this afternoon at 3:30 on the college diamond when they meet the Moffett Field Flyers.

Student Coach Phil Clark will get the starting assignment in State's last appearance of the 1945 baseball season. Clark has shown a lot of fine pitching in the past couple of weeks against Modesto J. C. and his nine-inning win over San Francisco State last Saturday.

The Spartans have had a fairly successful year, winning seven and dropping four contests. The locals boast victories over San Jose High school twice, Lincoln twice, San Francisco State twice, and Palo Alto High school.

George Smith, Milo Badger, and Jack Marcipan have been the leading batters for the Spartans all season. Smith and Badger getting several home runs between them.

SPRING GRID PRACTICE TO GET UNDERWAY MONDAY

With equipment assigned to some 25 prospective footballers, San Jose State's spring grid practice will get underway Monday at 4 o'clock.

With the hope of having a 1945 football team next fall, the students and coaching staff are facing spring practice with an optimistic outlook. San Jose State has not been represented on the gridiron since 1942-43, when the Spartans were flashing such stars as George Foote, Bert Robinson, Bill Parton, Bill Perry, and "Stu" Carter.

In that year the Staters met such competition as Occidental,

College of Pacific, U. S. F., Fresno State, and teams of like caliber. The most thrilling game of that year was the 20-13 defeat the Spartans suffered at the hands of the U. S. F. Dons.

The Spartans came from behind after trailing 20-6, and brought the count up to 20-13 at the half. The second half found the two teams battling to a standstill.

Monday Coach Bill Hubbard will hold regular practice at 4 o'clock, with individual drills taking up most of the time. A 5 o'clock the squad will be given an informal "chalk talk."
